

About Molley

A truly bright shining light, always smiling, loving, compassionate, every good thing--that was Molley. A dedicated wife, daughter, sister, family member, and sweet friend to all, Molley was ready to take on her most anticipated role yet as Braddock's mother. Molley was born in Ruston, Louisiana, on April 16, 1986, where she spent her childhood until moving to Baton Rouge in 1999. Molley made a lasting positive impression on all she met. Her smile and laugh could light up a room. She was everyone's best friend. She was the greatest of organizers and completely dependable. She had become an exemplary employee at Mary Bird Perkins Cancer Center, much valued by her employer. She loved her pugs Murphy and Maverick. Molley and her sister Kiley had a loving relationship, a bond so strong that it is difficult to describe. She and husband Hunter enjoyed cooking at home and eating out, traveling, and watching sports and movies together. They hoped to have a large family with four children and were eagerly awaiting their first son's arrival.

Molley's labor began early on February 19, 2018 with much joy and anticipation—Braddock was finally going to be here! During delivery, however, Molley immediately began to suffer the effects of amniotic fluid embolism and was in great distress. Miraculously Braddock was born healthy and without any problems, however Molley was unable to overcome the fatal effects that AFE had on her body. Beautiful Molley passed away in the early hours of February 20, 2018.

Braddock is a delightful child who shares his mom's heart-warming smile and bright eyes. A happy baby, he is loved by many who will teach him all about his incredible mom and her legacy. Our hope is to honor Molley's memory by joining the fight to raise awareness of AFE and to provide funding for the AFE Foundation in its efforts to end AFE.

About the Cause

Amniotic Fluid Embolism (AFE) is a life-threatening, acute, and unexpected birth complication that affects both mother and baby. Estimated to affect 1 in every 40,000 births, it remains a leading cause of maternal death and suffering in the U.S. and abroad. The Amniotic Fluid Embolism Foundation, a non-profit organization established in 2008, is a coalition of affected families, respected clinicians, world-renowned researchers, and engaged advocates working together to advance AFE research, promote awareness and understanding of AFE, and offer support for those whose lives have been touched by this often-fatal maternal health complication.

The AFE Foundation is the only organization in the world entirely dedicated to this condition and supports families all over the world.
